DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. The indicated allowability of claims 10-18 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Rappaport et al, U.S. Patent Pub. No. 2007/0117567. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 10-22, 24 and 37-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Rappaport et al (Rappaport), U.S. Patent Pub. No. 2007/0117567.

Regarding claims 10 and 37, Rappaport disclosesmeans for displaying a building layout into which the wireless local area network is to be installed (0039);means for displaying backhaul nodes for connecting the wireless local area network to an external wired network (0072, 0083, 0133); means for displaying multiple wireless access points, wherein the wireless access points are to be configured to exchange communications with the backhaul nodes (0121); and means for displaying additional information with respect to at least some of the multiple wireless access points, wherein the additional information includes: wireless coverage area for a wireless access point, type of radio-frequency data link layer technology for a wireless access point, wireless bandwidth for a wireless access point, or received signal strength for a wireless access point (0109).

Regarding claims 11 and 38, Rappaport discloses means for displaying additional information includes displaying an estimated receive power with respect to a displayed wireless access point when a pointer is positioned near the displayed wireless access point (0109).

Regarding claims 12 and 39, Rappaprot discloses means for displaying additional information includes displaying color-coded wireless coverage patterns with respect to at least some of the wireless access points, wherein the color-coding corresponds to bandwidth, signal strength or both (0053, 0054, 0056).

Regarding claims 13 and 40, Rappaport discloses means for displaying additional information includes displaying wireless coverage area, type of radio-frequency data link layer technology, and bandwidth or signal strength for at least some of the wireless access points (0109).

Regarding claims 14 and 41, Rappaport discloses means for displaying additional information includes displaying with respect to at least a subset of the wireless access points a list of associated modules for each of the wireless modules in the subset, wherein at least some of the access points in the subset include two or more discrete yet interconnected modules (0010).

Regarding claims 15 and 42, Rappaport discloses means for displaying additional information includes displaying a list of total modules of different types associated with at least a subset of the wireless access points, wherein at least some of the access points include two or more discrete yet interconnected modules of different types (0118).

Regarding claims 16 and 43, Rappaport discloses means for displaying a building layout includes means for providing floor layout elements such as walls or electrical outlets (0039).

Regarding claims 17 and 44, Rappaport discloses means for displaying a building layout includes means for establishing fixed or preferred positions for wireless nodes or antennas within the building layout (0063).

Regarding claims 18 and 45, Rappaport discloses means for displaying a building layout includes means for establishing fixed or preferred areas within the building layout for wireless coverage by a type of radio-frequency data link layer technology (0046, 0047, 0063).

Regarding claim 19, Rappaport discloses a computer-readable medium encoded with computer executable instructions to cause at least one telecommunication node to perform a method of displaying node layout information with respect to a wireless local area network (abstract), the method comprising: receiving parameters regarding the wireless local area network, wherein the parameters include a layout of a space in which the wireless local area network is to be located, and a number of wireless access points, a number of users, or a wireless data throughput; generating an optimized layout of multiple wireless access points within the space layout under an iterative optimization algorithm, wherein the optimized layout of wireless access points within the space layout, at least in part, takes into account the received parameters; and displaying the optimized layout of multiple wireless access points within the space layout, wherein the displayed optimized layout includes: locations of the multiple wireless access points within the space layout, and additional information with respect to at least some of the multiple wireless access points, wherein the additional information includes wireless coverage area, type of radio-frequency data link layer technology, bandwidth, or power (0039, 0053-0056, 0062, 0063).

Regarding claims 20-22 and 24, Rappaport reads on these limitations as evidenced by the fact the system is computerized (abstract, 0010).
